

Jisbar

Born in 1989, Jisbar is a young rising "pop street artist". Surrounded by art and by the world of skate-parks since an early age, he combines his two passions by exulting his creativity.

Jisbar draws his inspiration from fashion, music, pop art, the underground style of the world of skateboard and all the motifs displayed on the streets.

Through a myriad of colors, he spreads a punk style and a sort of pictorial freedom. The artist approaches with irony the references of the pop culture. Under his prism, society meddles in his canvases and shows another face. Jisbar freezes, what he calls, "moments of life".... an ode to a past time or a taste for nostalgia, his works emit an indescribable force. Such force engenders by an instinctive gesture in order to extract the essence of the creative spontaneity and of a defunct society.

Jisbar has done several exhibitions in France, the United States and Sweden. The artist focuses in creating in situ works, in a relationship concordance relationship between the place, the architecture and the public.
